Two-year-old Texas child killed by pit bull terrier

SUNDOWN, Texas (UPI) — A pit bull terrier attacked and killed a 2-year-old boy who wandered into a neighbor's yard Monday where the dog was tied on a 30-foot chain, police said.

Kelly B. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown, had been dead about an hour when his mother and neighbors found his body shortly after 4 p.m., Justice of the Peace Ted Clark said.

Clark said the child had bite marks over his entire body and he ruled the death accidental.

No one saw the attack, Police Chief D. L. Phipps said, but the child apparently approached the dog, which was tied in the yard of the home of Charles Cotton. Two other pit bull terriers chained at the Cotton residence were out of reach of the child, the Phipps said.

The scene of the attack is about 300 yards from the Brown home in Sundown, west of Lubbock.

The dog was taken to a veterinarian's office in Levelland for observation and laboratory tests.
